FAQs

What is a Food & Beverage Minimum?

Simply put, a food & beverage minimum is a specific dollar amount of food and beverage that you, the member, must meet by the end of the current year.

What happens if I don't spend it by the end of the year?

If you do not spend the minimum amount by the end of the current year, the remaining amount is then charged to your account via your preferred payment choice.

How do I use it?

- Purchase any food & beverage
- Participate in food & beverage events i.e. Prime Rib Night, Brunches, Christmas Events etc.

What doesn't apply:

- Pro shop merchandise
- Cash payments for items will not be applied to your minimum.

Note: Taxes & Gratuities do not count towards your minimum.

Once a Food & Beverage purchase has been made on your membership account number, your minimum total will be reduced and visible on your next statement.

Is my social membership limited to only one individual?

No, your social membership extends to anyone who shares the primary member's address, including their spouse and children. We believe in fostering a sense of inclusivity and allowing family members to enjoy the benefits of membership together.

Can I bring guests to the club?

Yes, members are allowed to bring guests to The Social Club at Greenhills as long as they are with a member of Greenhills.

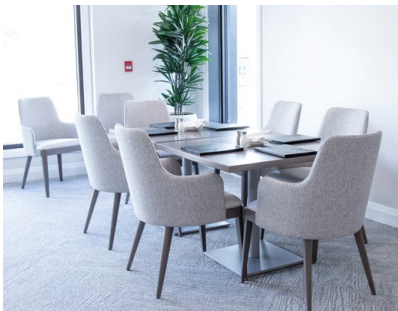

However, certain events or occasions may have specific guest policies or additional charges. Please inquire with our staff for more details about bringing guests and any associated guidelines.

Can I host private events or celebrations at Greenhills as a Social Club member?

Yes, as a member, you have the opportunity to host private events or celebrations at our club. We offer elegant event spaces to ensure your special occasions are memorable and seamless. Contact our staff for more information on booking private events.

What is the dress code at The Social Club at Greenhills?

We maintain a smart casual dress code at our club. We encourage our members to dress stylishly and comfortably, while refraining from overly casual attire such as ripped jeans, athletic wear or flip flops. Specific dress code guidelines may be provided for certain events or venues within the club.
